Title: Bays parkland

Details:

Restoration of some of the natural land form on the southern side of White bay, between the end of Booth street, Balmain and all the way up to Camerons Cove the natural land form has been cut creating a sheer cliff face. The restoration of all or part of this landform would soften this stark landscape. This could be integrated into the redevelopment of this area and would provide a beautiful publicly accessible area to the waterfront. The light rail could run underneath the ground at this point and would not involve tunnelling as a cavern would be created similar to the parking being provided under the Barangaroo parkland.
